No School Next Week

Next week is our Thanksgiving vacation. We do not have school next week. We will be welcoming students back to school on Monday, November 29th at 8am.

JFK Snow You Didn't

This fall, the Vermont Agency of Transportation launched their Name-A-Plow project. Schools from all over Vermont came up with names for the VTrans Snowplows. JFK's 3rd grade participated in the naming process, and invited other grades to vote on the names they came up with. This past Wednesday, our snowplow came to school with the winning name proudly displayed - JFK Snow You Didn't! Look for our plow on the roads this winter.

Parent Teacher Conferences

Yesterday and today are our fall parent teacher conferences. If you did not get to meet with your student's teacher, please email them to set up a meeting. During your parent teacher conference, the teacher will be able to answer any questions you may have about your student(s) report card and/or their DIBELS report. They will also talk to you about what they see with your student(s) in the classroom. Please look through the report card and/or the DIBELS report before your conference, and come to the conference with any questions you may have. Our students are the most successful when home and school work together to support them.
